

CONSERVATORIUM

AMSTERDAM

EVENTS

The three founding hotels of The Set are located in the cultural heart of their vibrant cities. They have for decades attracted people who drive change and creativity and are places where established and emerging ideas come together to shape the future.

Matching the spirit and pace of contemporary life, The Set Hotels are explicitly designed to enable new discoveries and to capture the hearts and minds of guests in the process. These are places people love, want to return to and to tell others about. Simply put, they are the modern grand hotels of our time.

Heritage

Built in 1897, the Conservatorium has a richly layered history as a bank, then a music school and now a hotel. In each chapter, the landmark property has been a gathering place for commerce, culture and society.

The building was originally designed by the architect Daniel Knuttel as the Dutch savings bank, Rijkspostspaarbank. Its construction at the end of the 19th century sparked the regeneration of Amsterdam's museum quarter. At that time, the building was as much a symbol of commercial and cultural prosperity as the Rijksmuseum, which was being revealed just next door. This was reflected in the impressive architecture of both buildings on Museumplein.

Throughout the 20th century, the Rijkspostspaarbank underwent a series of mergers and the building was abandoned in 1978. Five years later, it became the home of the newly formed Sweelinck Conservatorium and the bank was dynamically transformed into a music school. The offices were modernised to become acoustic classrooms. The students of the Conservatorium played there for many decades before moving to larger quarters in Oosterdokseiland. In 2008, it began its evolution into Amsterdam's only modern grand hotel, finally opening as the Conservatorium in December 2011.

Design & Architecture

Over 100 years ago, architect Daniel Knuttel turned to a mix of neo-Gothic and Art Nouveau principles to visually celebrate the importance of the Conservatorium building. Today, Italian architect Piero Lissoni uses a contemporary design language to complement and continue this narrative.

Inside and out, a strong design aesthetic is fundamental to the Conservatorium. It actually tells its story. The building's original function as a savings bank is apparent in the playful details so embraced by the Art Nouveau movement. There are stone pigs carved into the staircase to symbolise piggy banks; spider webs on the tiles in the shopping arcade allude to spiders trapping flies to consume later; and the tiles also portray bees, which, metaphorically, save stocks of honey for the wintertime.

These elements demonstrate an attention to design detail that remains today. Italian architect and design maestro Piero Lissoni was responsible for evolving this rich design history into a contemporary space. The way he merged the 19th century edifice by encasing its interior courtyard in glass demonstrates a seamless, innate understanding of old and new, public and private.

Lissoni's style is rich, muted and stylishly pared-back. While his vision contrasts to the decorative nature of the original 19th century edifice, it brings a new mood – and a new function – to this historic landmark building.

Music & The Arts

The Conservatorium regularly collaborates with the Conservatorium van Amsterdam music school and together they started the Expression of Art Award series. Each year, students from the jazz department are invited to compete at the hotel. A jury is present to announce the winner, who is awarded with a monetary fund to encourage them in their musical career.

The hotel's cultural commitment goes beyond music. It has an ever-changing roster of contemporary artists displaying their work in the hotel lobby. These artists range from emerging talent to globally established names such as Banksy and Scholten & Baijings.

Some suites are also decorated with works by artists. These pieces are rotated frequently and are shown alongside publications giving details.

The permanent art collection in the hotel has been curated by architect Piero Lissoni, and includes everything from reproductions of historic Dutch masterpieces to brand new commissions inspired by the Conservatorium's cultural and musical history.

Events

Architect Piero Lissoni placed the Conservatorium's event spaces in the pulsing centre of his conversion of the historic building. He chose not to hide them, but to highlight them and flood with light through glass walls.

Gathering in rooms that surprise and astound is something taken very seriously by the hotel, whether it is for an annual corporate event, fashion show, product launch, memorable reception, festive dinner, concert or auction. The hotel offers a total of 329 sqm of event space split over six different rooms on three floors. Every space has natural daylight, impressive design and state-of-the-art high definition technology. The Conservatorium is also licensed to host weddings, both large and small. Whatever the occasion, a dedicated team is there to look after guests' every need.

Events are a true experience at the Conservatorium, even after they conclude. A visit to the hotel can be enhanced with a team outing to any one of the cultural centres on the doorstep, whether this is a guided tour of the Rijksmuseum or a recital at the Concertgebouw. These can be arranged with the Conservatorium's host team.

Restaurants and Bar

The Conservatorium has an illustrious, century-long past where society has always gathered together. This is especially apparent today in its elegant bar and restaurants.

For something casual, there is the Brasserie where the fish market showcasing the daily catch from our fishmonger greet customers as they arrive.

Taiko Cuisine redefines contemporary Asian cuisine with authentic dishes made of local, seasonal products. Taiko takes its name from the Japanese for 'drum', and is located in the percussion room of the old music school. Lastly, Taiko Bar serves Asian cocktails, which are best enjoyed during the weekend when the in-house DJ brings the bar alive. Taiko Cuisine & Bar can be booked exclusively for events as well.

Akasha Holistic Wellbeing

Akasha marries innovative Western practices with ancient Eastern traditions. It boasts seven treatment rooms, including a double treatment suite, and offers some of the finest signature spa treatments in Amsterdam. There is a private hammam for purifying scrubs and massages. Akasha also features Amsterdam's only watsu pool for tailored hydro-treatments and guided meditation, as well as a large gym featuring Life Fitness equipment and private studios for yoga, Pilates and more.

Arts and Culture

Photography by John Lewis Marshall

Located on Museumplein – Amsterdam's historic cultural hub – the Conservatorium is surrounded by legendary artworks, fine examples of the applied arts and classical and jazz music in a set of world-famous institutions. Paintings by the Netherland's greatest master can be found at the Van Gogh Museum and the Rijksmuseum has a team of historic Dutch masterpieces by Rembrandt, Vermeer and Frans Hals. Contemporary art is shown close by at the Stedelijk Museum and Moco Museum and opposite is the Concertgebouw, which has one of Europe's best music programmes. This community of culture is within footsteps of the Conservatorium.

Shopping

The in-house Van Baerle shopping gallery at the Conservatorium features a hair salon and luxury stores that sell an eclectic mix of products, ranging from jewellery and designer clothing to cosmetics and cigars. The hotel is also well placed to reach the boutiques and stores in the fashion district of P.C. Hoofstraat and beyond.
